Consider taking venous blood for determination of blood cholinesterase activity (use heparin tube). Administer atropine sulfate, either by intramuscular or intravenous injection, dependant on severity of poisoning. Since there is no therapeutic effect, the use of oxime preparations (e.g., 2-PAM) or other cholinesterase reactivators is contraindicated.

Have the product container or label with you when calling a poison control center or doctor, or going for treatment.

1/8

A small spill can be handled routinely considering the physical and hazardous properties of the product as well as the location of the spill. Use adequate ventilation and wear protective clothing to prevent skin and eye contact. Soak up pooled liquid as follows:

- Spread a suitable absorbent such as clay on the liquid.
- · Place sweepings in an open drum.
- Generously cover the contaminated area with a common household detergent (e.g., Tide®). Using a stiff brush, work the detergent into the spill material using sufficient water to form a slurry. Brush the slurry into cracks and crevices and allow to stand for 2–3 minutes. Be careful to completely avoid skin or eye contact; do not splatter on one's self or bystanders.
- Spread absorbents on the slurred liquid, and shovel the absorbed material into an open drum.
- Repeat if necessary.
- Flush the area with water, while observing proper environmental considerations.
- Seal drum and dispose of contaminated material in an approved pesticide dump.
