

Averaging within Open Molding

- Facilities doing better than the point value limit in one open molding product/process grouping can average with another product/process grouping that exceeds the point value limit. Standard is met if weighted average point value limits are met.
- Averaging will be over a 12-month rolling period. That means, every month, you can compute your point value(s) by taking the previous 12 months of resin and gel coat data.