

PM 25
275-20

1/1

275-20
Insert Amendment
March 20, 1985

Valencia Oranges
(California)

To reduce rind creasing and to delay aging and softening of the rind.

Guide: Apply a single spray in August or September to trees with a target crop of young fruit. On large mature trees, apply 40 to 80 grams*/A in approximately 500 gallons/A dilute, or 100 gallons/A concentrate.

- Caution:
- a) Some increased regreening, or slower color development, should be expected in the target crop.
 - b) Some increased regreening of mature fruit, if present, may occur.

* Refers to actual gibberellic acid.

