WOODACE nutrient tablets are totally unique. IBDU® nitrogen release is governed by slow solubility, not bacterial action as in the case with ureaform fertilizers. Thus, the nitrogen will release in cool weather.

The potassium and phosphorous in WOODACE nutrient tablets are also slowly soluble in the N-P-K MATRIX to give a complete slow-release plant food.

Research has been conducted with WOODACE nutrient tablets at many locations; however, experience and judgement should be used with this and all other fertilizer and pesticide materials.

WOODACE® and IBDU® are registered trademarks of Vigoro Industries, Inc.

BAYLETON® is distributed by Mobay Chemical Co., and is the registered trademark of Bayer AG, Germany.
