GENERAL: Permatox 180 is a concentrated liquid product readily miscible with water. It may be mixed with water manually or through the CHAPMAN SURE-MIX proportioning device or Dispenser.

When mixing a batch of Permatox 180 solution manually it is best to add part of the water to the mixing tank, then add the measured amount of Permatox 180 and follow with balance of water, rinsing out the measuring container into the mixing tank at the same time.

Delayed treatment may allow interior stain to develop, so lumber should be treated within 24 hours of cutting by a dip or spray application of Permatox 180. Freshly treated lumber should be protected from rain. Dipping tanks should also be protected from over-dilution by rainfall and sawdust should be raked out daily.

Approved stacking practices should be employed with adequate space between boards and stacks. Green lumber or infected wood should not be used for stickers. The bottoms of the stacks should be well above the ground with weeds and debris kept away from stacks.

TREATMENT: For lumber 2 inches or less in thickness, combine one gallon of Permatox 180 with 100 gallons of water. For thicker lumber or timbers or bundled lath or shook, or under unusually severe or lengthy periods or conditions favorable to sapstain and mold development, combine one gallon of Permatox 180 with 30 to 50 gallons of water. A dip of 15 seconds or more is sufficient.
