WOOD AND WOOD PRODUCTS

Boron Rods are recommended for the protection of lumber against fungal decay.

The rate of application for Boron Rods is dependent upon the volume of wood to be treated. The rate of application for Boron Rods is 6.0 ounces of Boric Acid Equivalent per Cubic Foot of wood. CSI Boron Rods contain 1.45 pounds of Boric Acid Equivalent per pound. The following table shows the Boric Acid Equivalent for each size of CSI Boron Rods:

SIZE (inches) Width - Length	WEIGHT	BORIC ACID EQUIVALENT
.25 - .5	0.03 oz.	0.04 oz.
.25 - 2.1	0.12 oz.	0.17 oz.
.33 - .5	0.21 oz.	0.30 oz.
.33 - 1.0	0.42 oz.	0.60 oz.
.33 - 1.9	0.84 oz.	1.21 oz.
.5 - 4.0	3.47 oz.	5.00 oz.
.7 - 3.0	5.86	8.50 oz.

Boron Rods are designed to be placed inside of the wood to be treated. The three-step method is as follows:

1. Drill a hole that will accommodate the Boron Rods needed.
2. Insert the correct size and quantity of Boron Rods needed into the pre-drilled hole (determined from area to be treated).
3. Cap the hole with a suitable filler or putty.

When the wood is dry, painting or any other type of surface coating may be applied if desired. The location for placement of Boron Rods should be in the general vicinity where the potential for decay is greatest. For the most effective installation Boron Rods should be inserted at 4 inch intervals along the grain of the wood and at 2 inch intervals across the grain. In structural wood, Boron Rods should be inserted in a staggered pattern over the entire length of the component.
