RECOMMENDATIONS

For repelling terrestrial mollusks such as slugs and snails, apply STICKEM GREEN in horizontal 2" band around the trunk of mature trees, shrubs or vines. The easiest method for banding trunks with STICKEM GREEN is directly from the container at warm temperature using a stiff brush. The band should be approximately 1/8" thick and applied at a smooth location on the trunk as high above ground level as practical to minimize the effects of dust and sun (3-4 ft.). The inert ingredients in STICKEM GREEN will also serve as a physical barrier to crawling insects such as ants, beetles, caterpillars, earwigs, and mites. Do not mix or dilute STICKEM GREEN with other substances.

Exposure to water will reduce product effectiveness: Apply STICKEM GREEN after last of winter or seasonal rains. Band STICKEM GREEN so that it is not directly exposed to irrigation sprays.

Caution: On young trees, apply STICKEM GREEN on top of economical trunk wrap, not directly onto tender or young plant tissue. May cause sun-burn on bare or top-worked trees: Use trunk wrap.

To prevent crawling insects and mollusks from bypassing the STICKEM GREEN barrier, prune all branches which touch the ground, clear adjacent foliage and weeds, and band STICKEM GREEN on any structures that provide access to tree.

For repelling terrestrial mollusks such as slugs and snails, apply STICKEM GREEN in horizontal 2" band around the trunk of mature trees, shrubs, or vines. The easiest method for banding trunks with STICKEM GREEN is directly from the container at warm temperature using a stiff brush. The band should be approximately 1-8" thick and applied at a smooth location on the trunk as high above ground level as practical to minimize the effects of dust and sun (3-4 ft.). The inert ingredients in STICKEM GREEN will also serve as a physical barrier to crawling insects such as ants, caterpillars, and beetles (including Fuller Rose Beetle). Application brush can be cleaned with kerosene or other mineral solvent.
