APPLICATION DIRECTIONS

Before applying, read and understand all label instructions SHAKE WELL BEFORE USING!

Weather Conditions Do not apply at temperatures below 40°F, or in wet, windy conditions. Apply only in dry conditions and only under conditions favoring prompt drying of spray (lightly breezy, mild dry weather with low relative humidity). If spray is used in wet conditions or in damp, cold, foggy or misty weather, or if precipitation or freezing occurs before spray can dry, protection may be partially or completely lost.

New Conifer Seedlings New seedlings to be protected from winter browsing must be dormant and frost hardy before treatment. Assure complete coverage of new seedlings to the point of run-off. Once planted, retreat seedlings every 6 weeks during root establishment or as needed if previous treatment appears to be fading. Note Browning and drop of old needles may occur on some evergreen species after using this product.

Established Conifer Seedlings Treat each established seedling to be protected. Hold sprayer about 10" vertically above tip of terminal shoot. Spray the terminal and first whorl to run-off. Treat each seedling to be protected.

Yew, Scotch Pine, Arborvitae, Douglas Fir, Ornamental Crabapple, Hemlock, Honeysuckle, Azalea and Rhododendron*

To protect against winter browsing apply repellent upon onset of browsing. If browsing extends beyond two months, seedlings may be re-treated. Apply only to vegetation that is within animals reach. Apply to the point of run-off.

To protect against spring browsing of new growth apply repellent upon onset of browsing, but preferably after bud break and before new shoots exceed 1" in length. Do not re-treat new growth. If spring browsing reaches unacceptable proportions before bud break, repellent may be applied to unopened buds, but must then be re-applied after new growth averages 4" in length if browsing still persists. Apply to terminal to point of run-off. For large trees, apply Deer and Rabbit Repellent RTU Formula II only to lateral branches that are within animals reach.

Note Browning and drop of old needles may occur on some evergreen species after using this product.

Ornamental Shrubs* Do not apply during bud break or flower bloom, as foliage injury and petal drop may occur. Apply only to areas of vegetation that are within animals reach. Apply to the point of run-off.
