In order to protect health and the environment, the Administrator, on his motion, may at any time suspend or cancel the registration of a pesticide in accordance with the Act. If these conditions are not complied with, the registration will be subject to cancellation in accordance with FIFRA sec. 6(e). Your release for shipment of the product constitutes acceptance of these conditions.

Unconditional registration does not eliminate the need for continual reassessment of a pesticide. If EPA determines, at any time, that additional data are required to maintain in effect, an existing registration, the Agency will require submission of such data under Section 3(c)(2)(B) of FIFRA.

Revised Confidential Statement of Formula dated 1/31/97 is acceptable and this information has been added to our files for this product.

Under the currently approved use patterns, the risk of Bacillus thuringiensis subspecies kurstaki strain EG7826 is minimal to nonexistent to nontarget organisms including endangered species except endangered insect species.

The Agency has concerns about the exposure of threatened and endangered species. Currently, the Agency is developing a program (The Endangered Species Protection Program) to identify all pesticides whose use may cause potential adverse impacts on endangered and threatened species and to implement mitigation measures that will eliminate the adverse impacts. The program will require users to consult county-specific bulletins. These bulletins will provide information about specific use restrictions to protect endangered and threatened species in the county of specific pesticide use. Consultations with Fish and Wildlife Service will be necessary to assess risks to newly listed species or from, proposed new uses.

The Agency plans to publish a description of the Endangered Species Protection Program in the Federal Register and have enforceable county-specific bulletins. Because the Agency is taking this approach for protection of endangered and threatened species, it is not imposing label modifications at this time. Rather, any requirement for product use modifications will occur in the future under the Endangered Species Protection Program.

A stamped copy of the label is enclosed for your records.

Sincerely,

Janet L. Andersen, Director
Biopesticides and Pollution
Prevention Division (7511W)
