Status

PADEP visited the facility and met with company representatives on March 25, 2009. On March 14, 2012, EPA determined that the Human Health Exposures Environmental Indicator and Migration of Contaminated Groundwater Environmental Indicator have been met.

Facility Description

---

The facility is located in Norwegian Township, Schuylkill County, PA. The facility comprises of 27 acres and includes a 200,000 square-foot of manufacturing, warehouse, and office space. Immediate surroundings of the facility consist of residential areas to the north, commercial operations to the south, and undeveloped wooded areas towards the east. The facility manufactures fluoropolymer film for the pharmaceutical industry and nylon film for the food industry. Soil remediation was completed at the facility following a leak in an underground transfer line of acetone in 2003. Groundwater investigations were conducted. In January 2006, PADEP acknowledged that the facility had demonstrated attainment of site-specific standards of remediation under Act 2, accompanied by a deed acknowledgement. The facility executed a Notice and Land Use Restriction on June 11, 2007 specifying the future responsibilities to ensure that the site-specific pathway elimination for exposure to contaminated soil and groundwater continues to be maintained.
