Subject copper thief nabbed at Aerovox

fyi - Scott Alfonse just called to inform us that the NB police have tracked down a copper thief at Aerovox, using a video camera at Titleist that had been re-aimed to capture Aerovox. Apparently the camera captured an image of the pickup, which they then used to track down the owner. The event happened on 12/17/07, but Scott just became aware of it (he had been out over the holidays).

Apparently the NB police also did a 3 night stake-out, but had come up empty.

Regarding the restoration of power to the building, the City is leaning towards hiring a contractor to do this rather than wait for an in-house (Fire Dept.?) electrician to become available. I suggested that if possible, the current power be kept disconnected, and that new temporary service be provided: this would dovetail better with the demolition needs.
