Thanks, Mike. I'll look at these and see if we need anything else.

Kim:

Here are the figures you requested. One is a Site-wide map with concentrations, and the rest are "blow-ups" of the four quadrants of the site to make it easier to see the concentrations. If you need another version, let me know. We have completed the 5x5 sampling and drilling of the 8 "smaller hotspots" and are waiting for the lab data (I have attached a figure showing the sampling grids, but without any concentrations).
