

AEROVOX®
INDUSTRIES, INC.

Blake Bles 58968
P. O. Box B-970
740 Belleville Ave.
New Bedford, Mass. 02741
617-994-9661

August 25, 1975

U.S. v. AVX Corp. 11/17/75 Document

Mr. Stanley W. Legro
Assistant Administrator for Enforcement
United States Environmental Protection Agency
Washington, D.C. 20460

Dear Mr. Legro:

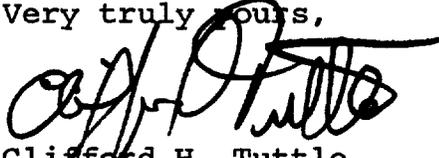

This acknowledges your letter of August 16 requesting information on our use of Polychlorinated Biphenyls. The letter was addressed to Aerovox Corporation and Belleville Industries. Aerovox Corporation has changed its name to AVX Corporation having sold this facility in New Bedford to Belleville Industries, Inc. on January 1, 1973. Belleville Industries changed its name on July 16, 1973 to Aerovox Industries, Inc.

The information requested in your letter is quite extensive and much of it is not readily available. In addition, restructuring that which occurred under Aerovox Corporation is even more difficult. Still, we are going to do everything in our power to comply with your request and provide you any and all information that we can compile.

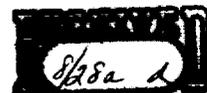

Unfortunately, we are a small company operating with a very reduced staff because of today's economic situation. Therefore, we believe it may be impossible to do a good job of replying within the time frame that you have requested. We will try, but our best assessment is that the report will not be available until approximately September 15. We will, at the latest, mail it by September 30.

We hope that this delay will not inconvenience your Agency and believe it is necessary in the interest of supplying you the maximum amount of information with the greatest accuracy possible.

Very truly yours,

Clifford H. Tuttle
President

CHT/eb

Handwritten address and return information

Aerovox®

INDUSTRIES, INC.

P. O. Box B-970

New Bedford, Mass. 02741

Mr. Stanley W. Legro
Assistant Administrator for Enforcement
United States Environmental Protection Agency
Washington, D.C. 20460