Hello Gary,

I am confirming a location today. Hands Across the River initially suggested the Public Library, but now think it would be better to have the meeting at the Fort Rodman warming house. I'll reply later today with an address.

Will you be presenting with PowerPoint slides? Have you invited New Bedford elected officials or City representatives? Below is a description of the meeting that Hands Across the River wants to circulate. Does the description accurately reflect your intention for the meeting?

Please join Hands Across the River on Wednesday, April 11 at 6:00 p.m. for a conversation with representatives from the Massachusetts Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) to discuss the Confined Disposal Facility project at the South Terminal in New Bedford. The state proposes to develop a multi-purpose marine terminal, a primary purpose of which will be to provide infrastructure to serve offshore renewable energy facilities and accommodate international shipping at the new facility. The proposed facility will re-use sand from navigational dredging or involve construction of confined aquatic disposal facilities to the extent approved by US EPA.

The conversation will begin with a presentation from EEA and its contractor, Apex Engineering, followed by an open question and answer session for residents to ask questions, raise concerns, suggest project changes, and learn about the proposed project.

Date: Wednesday, April 11
Time: 6:00 p.m.
Location:

If you have questions, please contact Edwin Rivera, President of Hands Across the River or Karen Vilandry, Vice President of Hands Across the River.

Hi Gary and Chet,

Hands Across the River is interested in meeting with you on Wednesday, April 11 at 6:00 p.m. Buddy Andrade, who is President of Old Bedford Village, is hoping to connect with you directly about a meeting with Old Bedford Village and the South Terminal project.

Regarding the notice of the meeting, what are you looking for? A document available in multiple languages? Are you looking to publish notice of the meeting in a newspaper? If so, which one?

PS. Staci, any chance of developing a notice of the meeting that complies with the Commonwealth's EJ policy?
